Laura Lynn Colantonio January 27th, 1955-December 27th, 2019, predeceased by her mother Barbara Colantonio (McCabe) and a very short time before the passing of her father Aldo Colantonio. Survived by her brother Christopher and wife Kathryn , nephew Andrew and niece Marie, and her husband Josh Woods.

Laura enjoyed many times with extended family throughout her life. She was loved and supported by them all. Laura shared over 25 years with her companion and best friend Bob Burns. They had many wonderful times together.

Laura loved laughter and shared many inside jokes, especially in the company of her brother Chris. She was deeply loved and cared for by her mother Barbara who provided the security everyone needs.

Laura had very recently located to Collingwood, ON where she loved her new home and walking at Sunset Point. She was happy to be closer to family. Although it seemed like a new beginning, this was not to be.

There will be a private service attended by immediate family at the York Cemetery in North York.

A thank you to all the health care staff at the Collingwood Hospital, especially the nurses and the paramedics, who were so kind to her during her last days.

“ Dear Chris, Kathryn and family....I'm in shock. Last time I talked to Laura she said she was going to be moving to Collingwood. I tried calling her old number a couple of weeks ago and then could not find a new number.

My condolences also on the death of your father. I'm so sorry - it's a lot to go through all at once.

“ Chris, I'm very sorry to hear about both Laura and your dad. My condolences go out to you and your family in this trying time. Although we have not been in contact with each other for a long time, your dad made an effort to stay in touch with my mother through the years. They were both the same age and shared an extended family bond as first cousins. They enjoyed shared family news with each other and staying in touch throughout their lives. My family has always had the highest regard for your dad and his family.

Respectfully...

Tony Colantonio
